Dear Mayor Gray and Chairman Mendelson:

In connection with the audit of the District of Columbia's (the District) general purpose financial statements for fiscal year (FY) 2012, Regis and Associates, PC (Regis) submitted the enclosed final report on the District of Columbia College Savings Program Trust Participant and Administrative Funds (Trust) financial statements and accompanying independent auditors' report for year ended September 30, 2012, OIG Report No. 13-1-15AT.

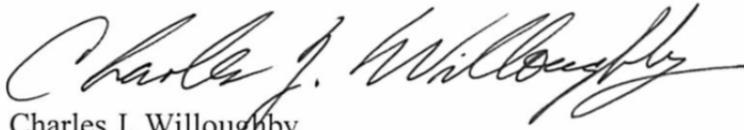

Regis opined that the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Trust as of September 30, 2012, and changes in net assets for the year then ended in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

In accordance with Government Accounting Standards, Regis also issued its report on consideration of the Program's internal control over financial reporting and on its tests of the Program's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, and contracts. Regis identified no deficiencies in internal control considered to be material weaknesses. A deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of an entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. Additionally, the results of tests performed by Regis disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS
SEPTEMBER 30, 2012

The following presents our discussion and analysis of the financial performance of the Government of the District of Columbia's (the District) College Savings Program (Program) for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2012. This discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and note disclosures.

Basic Financial Statements

The Program is accounted for as a private purpose trust fund of the District. The District has an overall fiduciary responsibility to Program participants to administer the operations of the Program. In accordance with GASB 34, the Program's basic financial statements, which are reported on an accrual basis of accounting, are: (a) Statement of Fiduciary Net Assets, and (b) Statement of Changes in Fiduciary Net Assets.

Statement of Fiduciary Net Assets presents the assets, liabilities, and net assets of the Program.

Statement of Changes in Fiduciary Net Assets presents the additions to, and deductions from the Program's net assets.

Financial Highlights

- Investment increased by $56,332,116 or 33.68%
- Participant Contributions increased by $10,148,195 or 30.33%
- Net Investment income increased by $34,843,687 or 1,711.97%
- Distributions to participants increased by $9,818,759 or 100.99%

Financial Analysis

Net Assets
Net assets held in trust for program participants	$ 223,564,717	$ 167,241,257	$ 56,323,460	33.68%

The Program's primary asset was investments, which totaled $223,587,165. Investments increased by 33.68% from 2011 due to a net increase in participant contributions and overall positive performance in the market. The top three Program investments were: Calvert Social Index Fund $47,486,204, State Street Equity 500 Index Fund $35,492,032 and Calvert Bond Portfolio Fund $31,100,155.

A significant portion of the Program's liabilities represents amounts owed to portfolio management firms for investment activities during the fiscal year. As of year ended September 30, 2012, the payables totaled $327,634.

Total Deductions	20,098,659	10,206,335	9,892,324	96.92%
Net Increase	$ 56,323,460	$ 21,223,182	$ 35,100,278	165.39%

The Program's contributions increased by $10,148,915 or 30.33%. The Program had an increase in participants from 12,338 in 2011 to 13,808 in 2012.

The Program had a net investment income of $32,808,393 in 2012, which is a 1711.97% increase from 2011. The increase is attributed to the positive rates of returns experienced by all of the investments in 2012.

Distributions to participants in 2012 were $19,541,306 a 100.99% increase from 2011.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Trustee of
The District of Columbia College Savings Program

We have audited the accompanying Statements of Fiduciary Net Assets of the District of Columbia 529 College Savings Program's (the Program) Participant and Administrative Funds as of September 30, 2012, and the related Statements of Changes in Fiduciary Net Assets for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Program's management, (Government of the District of Columbia, Office of Finance and Treasury). Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of investments owned as of September 30, 2012, by correspondence with the transfer agent of the underlying mutual funds. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the District of Columbia College Savings and Investment Program's Participant and Administrative Funds as of September 30, 2012; and changes in net assets of Participant and Administrative Funds for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated January 14, 2013, on our consideration of the District of Columbia College Savings and Investment Program's Participant and Administrative Funds internal control over financial reporting, and our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, and contracts. That report is an integral part of the audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards, and should be read in conjunction with this report in considering the results of our audit.

The Management's Discussion and Analysis on pages 1 and 2 is not a required part of the financial statements, but supplementary information required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. We have applied certain limited procedures, which consisted principally of inquiries of management, regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information, and express no opinion on it.

GOVERNMENT OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
COLLEGE SAVINGS PROGRAM TRUST
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
SEPTEMBER 30, 2012

NOTE 1 ORGANIZATION AND PURPOSE

The District of Columbia College Savings Program (the Program) was created by D.C. Law 47-4501 et seq., as amended and pursuant to D.C. Regulations, 49 DCR 9859, November 1, 2002 made final at D.C. Mun. Regs, title 9 sec. 155 (2004), as a Trust of the District of Columbia government (District). The Program enables participants to save for qualified higher education expenses. The Chief Financial Officer of the District of Columbia or his/her designee is the Trustee of the Plan. The current designee is the D.C Treasurer. The Trustee is responsible for entering into contracts for program management services, adopting program administration rules and regulations, and establishing investment policies. In Fiscal Year 2005, the District of Columbia College Savings Program Advisory Board was established to advise the Trustee on various topics including public outreach, implementing regulations, investment policy, and procedures governing applications, account management, and the disbursement of funds. Since the Program's inception, the Trustee contracted Calvert Assets Management Company (Calvert) to perform recordkeeping, administrative and custodial services, investment management, marketing, and customer services. Calvert subcontracted the responsibility of the recordkeeping and related services of the Program to National Financial Data Services, a subsidiary of State Street Bank and Trust Company.

The Program is available to both District of Columbia and non-District of Columbia residents. It is a qualified tuition program that allows participants to make contributions into twelve different investment options. The account balance limit is $260,000 per beneficiary. Accounts are subject to market investment risk, except for those that are invested in the Acacia Principal Plus product, which focuses on protecting the invested principal. As of September 30, 2012, the Plan had 13,808 participants with a net asset value of approximately $223,564.717. Fees and expenses of the program are paid by each account owner and vary according to the Fund in which they are invested.

NOTE 2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America as prescribed by the Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB) and the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB).

Reporting Entity

The accompanying financial statements report the fiduciary assets and the changes in fiduciary net assets of, and for, the fiscal year ended September 30, 2012. For financial reporting purposes, the Program includes all funds over which the Program exercises or has the ability to exercise oversight authority.

Measurement Focus, Basis of Accounting and Financial Statement Presentation

The Program reports the activity of the District of Columbia College Savings Program as a private-purpose trust fund, which is a type of fiduciary fund. Private-purpose trust funds account for transactions of trust arrangements in which the principal and income benefit individuals, private organizations, or governments. The financial statements of the fiduciary funds are reported using the economic resources measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting. Revenues are recorded when earned and expenses are recognized when a liability is incurred.

Portfolio investments in the Underlying Funds are valued at the closing net asset value per share (unit) of each Underlying Fund on the day of valuation. The Stability of Principal Portfolio is valued in accordance with the terms of the funding agreement, inclusive of accrued interest.

Security transactions, normally in shares of the Underlying Funds, are accounted for on the trade date. Realized gains and losses are reported on the identified cost basis. Income and capital gains distributions, if any, from investments in the Underlying Funds are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Expenses included in the accompanying financial statements reflect the expenses of each Portfolio and do not include any expenses associated with the Underlying Funds.

Units represent the beneficial interest of each participant in the net assets of a Portfolio. Contributions to and distributions from the Portfolios are subject to terms and limitations defined in the Participation Agreement between the participant and the Trust. Contributions and distributions are recorded upon receipt of the participant's instructions in good order, based on the next determined net asset value per unit. Net investment income and net realized gains accumulate in the net asset value of each Portfolio (with the exception of Acacia Principal Plus product), but are not separately distributed to participants. To maintain a stable value, dividends from net investment income are accrued daily and paid monthly by Acacia Principal Plus product.

Income Tax Status

The Program is exempt from federal taxes in accordance with Section 529 of the Internal Revenue Code. D.C. resident participants are exempt from state and local taxes when Funds are used for qualified expenses. Non-D.C. residents may be subject to state and local taxes in their jurisdiction.

NOTE 3 INVESTMENTS

At September 30, 2012, the Program held the following aggregate investments which are stated at aggregate fair value based on quoted market prices:

	Aggregate Cost	Aggregate Fair Value	Unrealized Appreciation/ (Depreciation)
Domestic Stock Funds
Calvert Equity Portfolio	$ 15,157,749	$ 18,032,931	$ 2,875,182
Calvert Social Index Fund	35,528,474	47,486,204	11,957,730
State Street Equity 500 Index Fund-	29,838,430	35,492,032	5,653,602
Calvert Capital Accumulation Fund	4,394,500	5,922,927	1,528,427
Calvert Small Cap Value Fund	8,363,279	10,880,547	2,517,268
Calvert Balanced Fund	5,498,090	7,250,862	1,752,772
International Stock Funds
Calvert International Equity Fund	24,115,088	24,260,545	145,457
Bond Funds
Calvert Income Fund	6,012,550	6,327,075	314,525
Calvert Bond Portfolio	28,724,701	31,100,155	2,375,454
Cash (Funding Agreement)
Acacia Principal Plus	36,833,887	36,833,887	-
	$ 194,466,748	$ 223,587,165	$ 29,120,417

The net appreciation in the fair value of the investments in the financial statements consists of the following at September 30, 2012:

Net Unrealized Gain	$ 27,142,278
Net Realized Gain	4,097,715
Total	$ 31,239,993

The net appreciation represents the change in the market value from the prior year.

The Program's investments, which are uninsured and unregistered and are held by counterparty in the Program's name, are also subject to certain credit, interest rate, and foreign currency risks.

Credit Risk is the risk that an issuer to an investment will not fulfill its obligations. The Program does not invest in debt securities that have an overall quality which is less than the BBB as rated by Moody's or Standard & Poor. The primary credit ratings of the Program's debt securities are as follows:

Fund	Credit Ratings
Calvert Bond Portfolio	A/A/A, BBB/Baa/BBB
Calvert Income Fund	A/A/A, BBB/Baa/BBB
Acacia Principle Plus	AAA, AA, A, BBB

Interest rate risk is the risk that changes in interest rates will adversely affect the fair value of an investment. The Program does not invest in any investment account that has an average maturity exceeding ten years for its Bond Mutual Funds. The interest rate sensitivity, defined as duration, for each fund is as follows:

Fund	Average Duration
Calvert Bond Portfolio	5.83 years
Calvert Income Fund	5.80 years
Acacia Principle Plus	5.96 years

Calvert Income Fund actively manages duration so that it will differ from the benchmark. The Acacia product's duration is typically tied to the projected long-term duration of the Program. However, the respective Fund's prospectus provides greater detail about the investment strategies and practices of the fund, in compliance with federal regulations and specifically, the Form N-1A of the Investment Company Act of 1940, which focuses on disclosure to the investing public of information about the fund and its investment objectives, as well as on investment company structure and operations.

Foreign currency risk is the risk that changes in exchange rates will adversely affect the fair value of an investment in a foreign financial institution. The Program does not have a formal policy for limiting its exposure to changes in exchange rates. The investment fund that invests primarily in foreign financial institutions is the Calvert International Equity Fund. The Fund has various currency denominations. The primary currency denominations are Euro, Yen, and British pound.

NOTE 4 ADMINISTRATIVE AND MAINTENANCE FEES

Account owners are charged certain fees that are used to pay reasonable and necessary operating and maintenance expenses incurred by the Program. The fees collected are still considered assets of the Program. The Program Manager remits a portion of the fees collected to the District who maintains the fees in a separate administrative fund account. In Fiscal Year 2012, total administrative fees assessed to account owners were $301,409. The District's portion of the fees was $100,470. As of September 30, 2012, the total amount not remitted to the District was $9,129.

The Program also assesses an annual maintenance fee and a separate enrollment fee to new account owners. The maintenance fee is $15 for District residents and $30 for non-residents. The enrollment fee is $25 for non District residents. The District receives $5 per account for each assessed fee. During the fiscal year, the maintenance and enrollment fees totaled $251,679 and $10,277, respectively. The District's portion of the fees was $65,360 and $2,250, respectively. The Program Manager remitted all the funds to the District, except for $330.

The District did incur administrative expenses in Fiscal Year 2012 of $79,535. The expenses were for the compilation and audit of the Program's financial statements. At year-end, the Program had an administrative net asset balance of $335,691.

NOTE 5 INVESTMENT EXPENSES

Investment expenses represent the operating expenses and load fees paid to the broker dealers. The fees charged by the investment funds for operating expenses and load fees are reflected in the net appreciation in fair value of investments amount in the statement of changes in fiduciary net assets. Operating expenses ratios ranged from 0.50% to 1.97% of the fund's average daily net asset value.

NOTE 6 RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

All of the Program's investments are invested in funds or portfolios that are managed either by the Program Manager, the Program Manager's parent company Acacia Life, or State Street. The market value of those funds totaled $223,587,165.

NOTE 7 RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

The Plan invests in investment securities that are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market, and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible, that changes in the values of the investment securities will occur in the near term and, that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the Statement of Net Assets available for benefits.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON COMPLIANCE AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH *GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the Trustee of
The District of Columbia College Savings Program

We have audited the financial statements of the District of Columbia College Savings and Investment Program's (the Program) Participant and Administrative Funds as of September 30, 2012, and have issued our report thereon dated January 14, 2013. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit, we considered the District of Columbia College Savings and Investment Program's Participant and Administrative Funds internal control over financial reporting, as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the District of Columbia College Savings and Investment Program's Participant and Administrative Funds internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Program's Participant and Administrative Funds internal control over financial reporting.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control over financial reporting was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section, and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the District of Columbia College Savings and Investment Program's Participant and Administrative Funds financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations and contracts, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit and, accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the management of the District of Columbia College Savings and Investment Program, and is not intended to be, and should not be used by anyone other than the specified party.
